Washington Expects Supreme Court to Uphold Gold Clause

WASHINGTON — Despite the Supreme Court's sharp interrogation of Government counsel, the Capital is pretty well convinced it will uphold the constitutionality of the gold clause.

Reason for this confidence is not in basic law.

It is based entirely on what Attorney General Homer Cummings, in his tactfully worded but pointed hint to the court, described as "extreme national necessity."

In other words, the economic consequences of an adverse ruling would be so staggering that officialdom cannot conceive a majority of the tribunal reversing the lower court decisions which upheld the law.

Likewise the history of the Court shows it is not entirely influenced by the prospect of definitely unfavorable reaction against it if it upset the apple cart.

Basically there is only one issue at stake in the cases:

Whether gold clause contracts shall be paid on the basis of $1 or $1.69—the present value of the gold dollar. The complainants emphatically did not demand payment in gold as that would be manifestly impossible and the Constitution specifically gives Congress the power to coin money and regulate the value thereof.

However, involved in this basic issue are two other factors:

Whether the law is constitutional as regards contracts between private individuals or corporations.

Whether the law should apply to foreign holders of gold clause contracts.

Regarding the latter point Chief Justice Hughes indicated much concern.

Domestically the dollar has suffered no loss in purchasing power as a result of devaluation. But in foreign exchange it has undergone drastic shrinkage.

In some quarters it is deemed possible that the Court, while upholding the validity of the law regarding domestic contract holders, may draw a distinction in the interest of foreign claimants.

Senatorial Cud

One of the pet—and frequently practiced—accomplishments of Vic Donahy, new Democratic senator from Ohio, is to break a cigar in two, stick it in his mouth and chew it complacently.

Embarrassing

Dinner table conversation in Washington requires a good memory—as a certain lady learned to her embarrassment.

She was seated next to Senator "Puddler Jim" Davis of Pennsylvania. The talk turned to the Post Office Department's efforts to stop the sale of sweepstakes and lottery tickets in the United States.

The lady was emphatic that the sale of such tickets should be stopped.

"I'm against lotteries. Aren't you, Senator?" she demanded.

An embarrassed hush descended on the table for a moment, and then someone hastily changed the subject.

Later the lady was reminded the chunky little Pennsylvanian had twice been tried for violation of the national lottery laws.

NOTE: The first trial ended in a mistrial, the second in an acquittal.

S-5

You will be hearing a lot about S-5 as Congress continues in session.

That is the official title of Senate Bill No. 5, the pure food and measure that has been introduced by New York's carnation wearing Senator Royal S. Copeland.

Although not as exacting as that drafted by Brain Truster Rex Tugwell last year at White House instigation—the Bill is considerably more drastic than had been expected.

LIMIT IN AGES AGAIN BLOCKS COUNCIL MOVE

Effort to Suspend Rules,
Pass Ordinance Fails;
Helwigen Votes No

TO READ THIRD TIME
Members of Legion Urge
40-Year Age Limit

A second attempt to suspend the rules and pass the ordinance setting the age limit for new members of police and fire departments failed Wednesday evening this time by a vote of three to four. Two weeks ago two members, Frank Baker and Frank Marion, veteran councilmen, voted against the suspension of rules preventing the ordinance from being immediately passed and this week they found Julius Helwigen on their side.

Four councilmen, all of whom are members of the two pension boards, voted "aye" on suspension of rules. They were Ben Gordon, W. M. Reid, C. O. Leist and Dan Ryan. Since six votes are necessary to suspend rules the effort failed.

Council will meet again on Feb. 6 to read the ordinance for the third time.

INVOLVES AGE LIMIT

The disputed question involves the age limit of 24 and 35 years which war veterans claim prevent any of them from seeking a job in either department. They urge, and are supported by Mayor W. B. Cady, that the age limit should be 40 years. At this time council stands four to three to pass the ordinance with the age limit 35 years. Unless one of the four members backing the ordinance as it stands changes his mind it is highly probable that council will vote the ordinance of 24 and 35 years into effect.

Then it will be possible for Mayor Cady to wield his power. He may veto the ordinance, it was said today, but interviewed, he said he had not thought that far as yet. If Mayor Cady vetoes the ordinance after its expected passage council would be obliged to boost the age limit to suit him, or have the police and firemen's retirement system practically lost.

LEGIONAIRES APPEAR
Paul Adkins and Morris Boggs, representing Howard Hall post, American Legion, appeared in council and urged that the ordinance be revised to read 24 and 40 years to permit some of the war veterans who might apply for city jobs to get in under the age limit.

'CANNIBAL' KILLER CONFESSES CRIME

Negro Breaks Down Under
Grilling To Confess Killing
Man, Wife.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 17.—James P. Coyner, negro "cannibal slayer" of a Cleveland, Miss., expectant mother and her husband, today made a full confession of the crime after hours of questioning by authorities.

The negro, a convicted grave robber, confessed that he entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aurelius B. Turner, slew the young husband and criminally attacked the wife.

Highly nervous after many hours of grilling, the negro admitted that he slew Mrs. Turner with a hammer and carved flesh from her body and carried it away with him. He asserted he salted and cured the flesh, which he kept as a souvenir of his atrocious crime.

Coyner also confessed that he stole the heads of four white women from their graves at Fern-dale, Mich., but he denied that he had killed the women. He also admitted removing a young girl's body from an Indiana grave a number of years ago.

TWO GIRLS PERISH

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Two little girls perished in flames today when an oil heater exploded in a frame cottage at Rockaway Beach.

Mrs. Margaret Sanger, postmaster, was awakened by the explosion. She fought her way through the flames to her five children and saved three of them, including the two-year-old baby, Dolores, but Irene, 5, and Virginia, 9, were reached too late.

Slain by "G" Men

Fred Barker

One of a gang who was killed in a machine gun battle with 15 federal agents at Oklawaha, Fla., was reported identified as Fred Barker, above, hunted since Jan. 1934, as one of the kidnapers of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul brewer, for whose ransom $200,000 was reported paid. Barker's mother, described as "Ma" Barker, was reported slain as she operated a machine gun against the federal men.

"BOY'S SKULL FRACTURED"

—SAYS EXAMINER

Lindbergh Child Died of Fractured Skull, Medical Man Says; Dictionary Clew.

COURTROOM, FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 17.—Medical Examiner Charles H. Mitchell testified today at the murder trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann that the Lindbergh baby was killed by a "fractured skull."

He had conducted the autopsy.

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 17.—Attorney General David L. Wilentz today revealed he is prepared to supply a final and surprising link to the literary chain with which the state of New Jersey hopes to lead Bruno Richard Hauptmann to the electric chair for the murder of Baby Lindbergh.

It is nothing more than a dictionary. But it is a German-English dictionary and it was found in Hauptmann's house in the Bronx, N. Y., and in it certain highly significant words underscored with pencil marks.

"We are all prepared to show something that even the hard working handwriting experts who testified for the state did not know," Wilentz said. "That is, that Bruno Richard Hauptmann was a dictionary addict."

The evidence is highly significant in view of the testimony of the eight nationally known experts on questioned documents who have testified that Hauptmann wrote the Lindbergh ransom notes, including the one found in the baby's nursery on the night of March 1, 1932.

COURTROOM, FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 17.—William Allen, negro laborer, first witness called to the stand today at the Bruno Richard Hauptmann murder trial, told the jury how he found the body of little Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., near a lonely New Jersey roadway on May 12, 1932—seventy-two days after the infant was kidnapped from his nursery.

CONVICTS FACE DEATH TRIALS AFTER ARREST

Young Prosecutor to Invoke New Kidnap Law
On Fleeing Trio

WARDEN IMPROVING
San Quentin Scene of Sensational Break

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Cal., Jan. 17.—Speedy justice—possibly the gallows under California's new kidnap law—will be demanded by District Attorney Albert Bagshaw, of Marin-co, for the remaining trio of the convict quartette who yesterday staged the sensational San Quentin prison break.

The fighting young prosecutor, who personally accounted for the fourth desperado with a lead of buckshot, went into legal action as hopeful news came from the prison hospital, where Warden James B. Holohan, 63, was staging a game fight for life against a fractured skull and other injuries, inflicted by the convicts in their mad dash for freedom.

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Calif., Jan. 17.—Extra guards today were rushed to San Quentin, world's most populous prison, in the fear another break may follow the sensational delivery that cost the life of one convict, lead to the serious wounding of Warden James B. Holohan and the kidnapping of six officials and the shooting of two.

Holohan, former United States marshal in San Francisco and warden here since 1927, was in the prison hospital, his skull fractured, his head cut and battered by convict guns, and his chances for recovery "very slim."

He was beaten to the floor of his home in the prison reservation by four desperate felons who

Half Pint Sales Leading In Liquor Store Receipts

The hip pockets of the patrons of the Pickaway-co liquor store have carried away large quantities of the "cup that cheers" during the past four months, and the pint-size bottle seems to be the favorite for local consumption. Of the 16,555 bottles sold during a period beginning the second week in September and ending the first of January, 5,885 were pints, with a retail value of $5,689.95.

The total sales during this period amounted to $17,220.45, divided as follows: Quarts, 1591, valued at $3,603.55; fifths, 4390, valued at $5,518.85; pints, 5885, valued at $5,689.95; halfpints, 4684, valued at $2,408.10. Total, 16,555 bottles valued at $17,220.45.

Twenty-six brands of liquor are carried in stock at the state store. The largest number of sales were recorded during the month of December, or immediately preceding the holiday season.

CITY TO NEED $85,326 SUM

Annual Appropriation Ordinance Voted at Meeting;
Balance Is Expected.

The annual appropriation bill which lists estimated expenses of the city in 1935 was passed under suspension of rules Wednesday evening by council after Clerk Fred Nicholas explained the figures to the city dads.

The ordinance calls for $85,326 as compared with $79,395 included in the 1934 budget. It is estimated if sales tax receipts live up to expectations the city will finish the year with a nice balance.

The general fund appropriation calls for $63,366; auto license fund, $5,800; gasoline tax fund, $8,600; library, $5,730; fire department pensions, $615; police pensions $1,215.

Under the ordinance the safety department asks $16,275. This includes $7,440 for police, $8,745 for firemen, $90 for mayor's incidental expense.

Total receipts in 1934 amounted to $50,077.43, Miss Lillian Young, auditor, informed council while expenditures were $50,884.76.

The balance at the beginning of the year, however, was $4,737.57 so the difference in receipts and expenditures was easily handled. The balance on hand at the start of 1935 was $3,930.24.

The city's indebtedness to the utilities, water and power, total $11,283.59 to the water company and $7,932.49 to the power company.

General bonded indebtedness includes $46,435.25 in general bonds and $47,000 in hospital bonds.

The city's total cash in banks Jan. 1, 1935, was $10,785.42 in all funds.

SECURITY PLAN IS TOLD TODAY

Four-Point Program Urged By President In Message To Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Asserting that the country cannot be guaranteed against future depressions, but that their effects can be mitigated, President Roosevelt today asked congress to enact a broad-gauged program of social security legislation designed to help what he has described as the "under-privileged" in the American economic system.

His program embraces:
1. Unemployment compensation, with the federal government holding the purse strings and the individual states administering the plan, to be financed by a pay-roll tax of 3 per cent, jointly contributed by the employer and employee, or by the employee alone, as the states decide.

2. Old age pensions, with the federal government matching the states dollar-for-dollar, the age minimum being 65.

3. Federal aid to the states in caring for dependent and crippled children.

4. Federal aid to state and local public health agencies, with a strengthening of the U. S. public health service.

John D. Newton, retired farmer, is in critical condition at his home on N. Court-st. His daughter, Mrs. J. C. Cheek, was to arrive today from Oklahoma City to be with her father.

Leads Fight on Huey's Scalp

Ernest J. Bourgeois

President of the Square Deal association of Louisiana, Ernest J. Bourgeois heads a non-political organization fighting the dictatorship of Senator Huey Long, by holding protest meetings in various cities. The organization was formed when jobs of thousands of employees of Standard Oil were threatened by the fix-cent tax on each barrel of oil refined in the state. The company announced it might have to withdraw from Louisiana.

BUSINESS AT BERGER SEEN

Hospital Comes Within $4-
362.24 of Making Way;
Outstanding Bills High.

Berger hospital came within $4-362.25 of making its own way in 1934, according to comparative figures submitted to council Wednesday evening by Miss Ethel Kirchofer, superintendent.

Expenses for the year amounted to $15,805.35 while receipts totaled $11,433.25.

If outstanding accounts of $2-654.10 accumulated since last January 1 could be collected the deficit for the year would be much less. Of this delinquent amount $1,611.50 is set off from $1,042.60, the latter being charged to charity cases.

The total amount of money on the accounts receivable ledger of the institution is $5,645.60.

Miss Kirchofer's report discloses the following items:

Number of persons in hospital Jan. 1, 1934, 5; admitted during the year, 459; treated, 558; discharged, 457; deaths, 19; births, 51; operations, 176 days care, 3,148.

Expenditures: provisions, $2-587.79; laundry, $954.22; fuel and light, $953.15; medical and surgical supplies, $1,684.27; salaries, $8,923.43; other supplies, $682.49. Collections at the hospital during December totaled $808.68.

REMOVE OBSTACLE FROM SMITH DITCH

Only one obstacle remained in the path of council today on its path toward proper reconstruction of the Smith ditch in the south end of the city. Charles "Hack" Stevenson has signed an easement permitting council to go through his land, but the Marfield property is the only one through which a right-of-way has not yet been gained.

Another meeting with the Misses Marfield and their attorney is sought by council.

It is feared if the project cannot be started soon the city will not receive money pledged by the county.

DR. PHILLIPS IS RE-ELECTED

Country Club Trustees Organize; Mason, Eshelman Are Named on Board.

Dr. G. D. Phillips, N. Court-st., was re-elected president of the Pickaway Country club, Wednesday evening, when the annual meeting of active members was held. The trustees organizing at the close of the general meeting re-named Dr. Phillips.

The meeting was well-attended and was interesting.

Other officers are: Felix R. Caldwell, vice president, succeeding Charles H. May, and Clark Will, secretary-treasurer succeeding himself.

Charles Brunner and Mr. Caldwell were re-elected trustees while Charles Mason was named to succeed William G. Hamilton and John W. Eshelman, Jr. was elected to fill the unexpired term of Dr. C. G. Stewart, resigned.

The trustees have started to work on an attractive membership plan in an effort to offer the privileges of the club at a reduced cost.

TRUAX JOINS HUEY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—A permanent cut of $25,000 in the president's annual $75,000 salary was suggested today by Rep. Truax (D) of Ohio. "Fifty thousand dollars ought to be enough for anyone to get along on," said Truax, who has joined the campaign of Senator Huey Long (D) of Louisiana, to redistribute wealth.

REAMS TO PROBE WHITE RELEASES

COLUMBUS, Jan. 17.—Frazier Reams, prosecutor of Lucas-co, has accepted a position tendered by Governor Martin Dwyer and an investigation of the Ohio penitentiary was to start today. Circumstances of some of the many pardons given by ex-Governor White will be studied, it was said.

DAVEY TO CONTINUE OHIO SALARY CUTS

COLUMBUS, Jan. 17.—Thousands of county officials and employees today faced continued cuts in salaries as Governor Martin L. Davey announced he would urge an extension of reduced pay.

State employees will go payless temporarily, for the first half of January at least as the result of the governor's announcement last night that he will not sign the $18,920,165 appropriation bill until he can have introduced in the legislature a bill to re-enact the salary cuts which have been in effect for two years.

At the same time Davey said he will urge continuation of the salary reduction for county officials and employees and will favor a resolution calling on judges and others whose salaries cannot be reduced by law to take voluntary reductions.

No action was taken on either request.

ALL RETAILERS GIVEN WARNING BY OHIO CHIEF

Actual Collection to Start
On Sunday, Quincy
Davis Announces

INSPECTORS READY

Most of Stores Ready for Start, He Says

COLUMBUS, Jan. 17.—Quincy Davis, chairman of the state tax commission, today announced that Ohio's three-cent sales tax, designed to give the state $60,000,000 in revenue, would become operative Sunday, January 27 at 12:01 a. m.

Actual collections will start at that time, he said.

Quincy warned retail stores and merchants that inspectors of the sales tax division of the commission would launch an "intensive campaign" to see that they comply with the sales tax law. His full statement follows:

MAKES STATEMENT

"Our inspectors, covering every district in the state, will start an intensive campaign the moment the act becomes effective to detect and prosecute retail vendors who do not collect the new sales tax. We have no alternative.

"Vendors should realize that before January 27, they must purchase a supply of these state-issued, prepaid tax receipts. They cannot purchase them until they take out a vendor's license secured from their county auditors. They cannot collect the tax from their customers until they have done so.

"The great majority of the substantial stores of the state have complied. I am afraid that, through ignorance or neglect, many retailers will suffer. The tax commission will be forced not only to prosecute but to impose heavy tax penalties for failure to cooperate in the enforcement of the act."

READY BY JAN. 19

Davis said he had been informed by the state treasurer's office that the sales tax stamps would be ready for sale in all districts of the state by January 19.

Mrs. Wilkes was born Feb. 16, 1848, a daughter of Jonas Smith and Susan Wright. Her first husband was John Wilke, whom she married Dec. 21, 1869. She married Mr. Wilkes April 3, 1874.

Surviving besides her husband are the following children, Mrs. Letta Hines, Sandinas, Cal., Mrs. Anna Gehring and Mrs. Cecilia Throckmorton, Columbus, Mrs. Harriett Strawser, Joseph Wilkes and Charles William Wilkes, of this city. Twenty-four grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren also survive.

SHANER REQUESTS TWO CITY ACTIONS

Safety Director L. T. Shaner asked council Wednesday evening to draw up an ordinance worked to prevent automobiles standing on the streets for an unnecessary period of time.

He expressed disgust at owners of cars who leave them on the public thoroughfares with 1934 license plates on them.

He also asked council for a resolution sanctioning his action in turning over outstanding bills of Berger hospital to a collection agency.

No action was taken on either request.

REPUBLICANS CONSIDER PLAN TO WREST HOUSE POWER

MEET TUESDAY TO HEAR DAVEY

May Try to Appoint Committee on Committees to Take Bittering's Power.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 17.—Republican members of the Ohio house of representatives, still smarting from the loss of the speakership, maneuvered today with the idea of wresting control of house committees from the Democrats when the legislature reconvenes next week.

Their plan, approved in caucus, was to put through a resolution for the appointment of a committee on committees which would take over the power the speaker has long enjoyed of making committee assignments. It would consist of four Republicans and three Democrats.

Success of such coup would do much to tie the hands of the Democrats on legislation even though they have the speaker, Rep. J. Freer Bittering, Ashland. Talk of the Republican majority voting to unseat Bittering was heard in the house chamber, but the lukewarm response it received from several prominent G. O. P. members apparently has caused its abatement.

TO GATHER TUESDAY
After passing the partial appropriation bill, thus making possible immediate payment of the already overdue salaries of state employees, both houses went home until next Tuesday afternoon when Governor Davey will appear before a joint session to outline some of his major ideas on needed legislation.

A fight over the appropriation for Davey's inauguration was avoided when the new administration voluntarily agreed to a reduction from the original $8,000 figure to $3,500, saying this amount would be adequate.

Passage of the six months appropriation bill was the only legislation the new general assembly could point to as an achievement of its first two weeks. No other bill has been introduced in the lower house, but in the senate measures are pending to set up an unemployment system, remove the $1 a gallon tax on liquor and re-strict possession of firearms.

In the senate, Sen. August Weber (D) Columbus, started a movement to rescind the appointment of Edward Gibson, assistant clerk at the last session, as senate parliamentarian at a salary of $2,400. Gibson is a Republican. Never before in the memory of the oldest members has the upper house enjoyed the luxury of a parliamentarian.

Sen. Frank Whittemore (R) Akron, the minority floor leader, sponsored the resolution creating the job for Gibson, and the Democrats, caught off their guard, voted for it. After realizing how they had lavished money on a communi-

Mussolini Realizes His Dream for Expansion

Premier Benito Mussolini's fond dream, expansion of Italy's African colonial empire, has become an actuality in the recent pact signed with France. By it, not only does France recognize Italy's increasing power in Europe, but she also has handed over voluntarily, territory south of Libya (B), and another slice (A) bordering the Red sea, by Eritrea. Italy, according to reports, also is given a free hand in "chastising" Abyssinia (Ethiopia), and has troops on the latter's borders.

cent of the opposite political faith, they set about to rectify it. Senator Weber's motion to reconsider Gibson's appointment was left pending until next week.

TWO CONFIRMED

The senate has confirmed two Davey appointees, Commerce Director Alfred A. Benesch, Cleveland, and Banking Superintendent Samuel H. Squire, Elyria. Davey sent up the names of all other cabinet members except that of O. B. Chapman, Dayton, as industrial relations, but they arrived too late for action before adjournment and will be taken up next week.

Desire of the administration to keep the Democratic strength in the lower house at its peak was seen in Davey's withholding Chapman's appointment. He is a member of the house and must resign, thus increasing the G. O. P. house majority to two, when he becomes a member of the cabinet.

It was understood Chapman's appointment might be held up indefinitely until the muddled situation with respect to control of the house settles perceptibly.

Know What Your Bank CAN and CANNOT Do For You

It is important that you should know what your bank cannot do for you as well as what it can do for you in the way of service.

Your bank under certain circumstances, can lend you funds upon the basis of future contracts or delivery. By means of various credit forms your bank can help you to get immediate payment for goods sold, or advance you money on suitable collateral.

But your bank cannot lend you capital with which to go into business, or in any sense enter into partnership with you. It cannot encourage nor take part in speculation of any kind. Your bank cannot engage in any activity outside of the legitimate field of banking.

Butterflies—in summer or winter—whether real or made of bits of calico or print—are delightful to have about. This simple applique quilt, Butterfly Applique, translates their colorfulness to the bedroom. You can do each butterfly in a different color if you wish. Both it and the flower and leaf are very simple patches to apply, and you'll be surprised to see how quickly the blocks pile up. Besides using the design for a quilt, you can apply it to pillows and scarfs and so have all the fittings of your bedroom in the same design—a very pretty effect!

In pattern 5293 you will find the Block Chart, an illustration of the finished block in actual size, showing contrasting fabrics; accurately drawn pattern pieces; an illustration of the entire quilt; three color schemes; step-by-step directions for making the quilt, and exact yardage requirements.

PATTERN 9272

Larger women who know "what's what" in the figure flattery will like the long slimming lines of this tailored afternoon frock. For it's a woman's frock that's young, becoming and not a bit fussy withal. The slenderizing effect of that front skirt panel—which seems to detract inches from the hip measurements—is carried out above the waistline by the long slim revers that form a nice V. Darts at the shoulders give the bodice comfortable roominess, and vertical tucks at the back of the waistline mold it trimly. The sleeves may be made long or short.

Pattern 9272 may be ordered only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 24, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 4 yards 39 inch fabric and 3/4 yard contrasting.

HALLAM'S JOB GAINING FAVOR WITH DEALERS

Inspection of Grain Interesting Work; Sponsored By Chamber of Commerce.

The grain inspection department of the Circleville Chamber of Commerce is meeting with popular favor with grain dealers through this section. The department was organized last July and a licensed federal grain inspector, J. A. Hallam, placed in charge. A visit to the inspector's offices at the Norfolk & Western freight station proved to be interesting and enlightening to a Herald representative. Mr. Hallam carefully explaining in detail all the requirements and the work involved in a actual test of grain to determine the weight per bushel, moisture content, foreign material, etc.

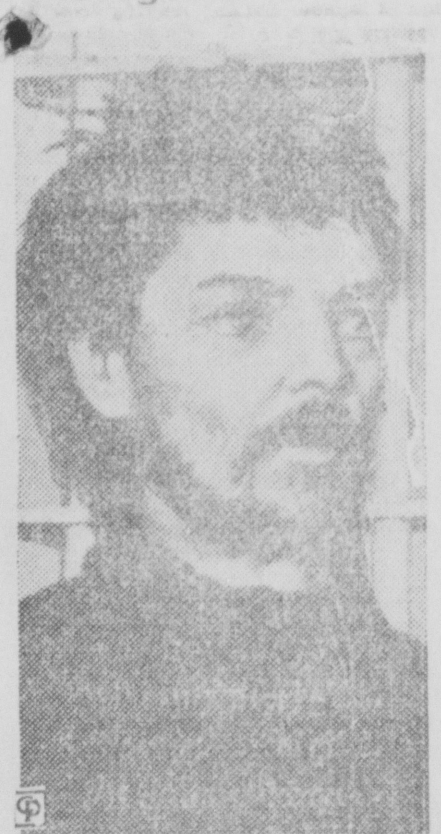

ALL IS GRADED

Practically all grain received at terminal grain markets is graded and warehoused according to well defined quality standards of the federal grain grades. The advantages of definite grades to facilitate transactions in grain, especially when the buyer cannot actually examine the grain, are recognized. The federal grain standards enable those who sell grain to know definitely what they must deliver to meet a specified contract by grade, and the grain standards likewise furnish to the buyer definite information as to what he may expect when he contracts to buy a certain specified grade.

Believing that there was sufficient local interest in the marketing of grain according to federal standards, the Chamber of Commerce sponsored the establishment of an inspection department here, and it is growing in favor. The department is self-supporting, the grain inspection being made on a fee basis, and the service is available to all buyers and sellers of grain, either incoming, outgoing, or enroute.

What proportions are used for sour cream biscuits? Do the proportions vary from those used for plain biscuits?

Here is an old recipe for sour cream biscuits:

- 2 C. sifted flour
- 1/2 cup salt
- 1/2 cup soda
- 1 cup baking powder
- 3 or 4 Tbsp. butter, or other fat
- 3/4 C. thick sour milk

Mix and sift flour, salt, soda and baking powder. Cut in the shortening. Add milk and stir lightly until soft dough is formed. Turn on floured board, pat and roll to about 1/2-inch in thickness. Cut with a floured biscuit cutter. Bake in a hot oven of 450 degrees for 12 minutes.

Can you tell me how to use orange or lemon peel for flavor?

Cheese clean skinned oranges and lemons. Grated peels are used fresh, or mixed with sugar and stored in tightly covered jars. Grate only the yellow, outer portion of the skin which contains the oil cells. The whole peel may be ground fine, mixed with sugar and used like the grated rind.

BISHOP TEAM DEFEATS OHIO, LEADS LEAGUE

Prech, Stammler Get Hot As Wesleyan Roms Over Ohio U. on Athens Court.

By International News Service Ohio Wesleyan, defending champions in the Buckeye conference basketball race, today became the foremost contenders for the crown again this year after defeating Ohio University, at Athens, last night by a 49 to 32 score. Wesleyan now will point for the undefeated Cincinnati team which it will meet next Tuesday night in a game that will virtually decide the league race. Cincinnati boasts of a string of 10 wins this season. The Battling Bishops have won three conference games and if they can beat Cincinnati's Bearcats Tuesday, there probably will be no stopping them.

LEAD AT HALF Ohio Wesleyan got away to a slow start in the game at Athens last night. Twice the Bobcats held a one-point advantage in the first half but the Battling Bishops turned on the power toward the close of that period and never again were bested. The half-time score was Wesleyan 22, Ohio 15.

Wesleyan did its greatest work in stopping Beggs, who is high scorer in the state. The center was too well guarded by the Bishops and he was able to get only one field goal. However, he dropped seven free tosses into the bucket. Prech, a guard, and Stammler, a guard, led the attack for Wesleyan. A feature of the Bishops' offensive was the fact that they worked the ball up under the basket before trying most of their shots.

MT. UNION LEADS Meantime, a survey of the Ohio Conference standings showed that Mt. Union was setting the pace there with four straight conference victories. Oberlin is second with two and Xavier and Baldwin Wallace each have one victory, against no defeats. Akron, the champion last year, was toppled from its perch in a game with the Baldwin Wallace squad.

FIVE MICHIGAN CAGERS OUSTED

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Jan. 17.—Five University of Michigan basketball players, four of them on the varsity, today had been temporarily suspended for breaking training rules by Coach Franklin Cappon. The suspended players are: Captain Al Plummer, Chelso Tamagno, John Jablonski, George Rudness and Jack Teitelbaum. The disciplinary move, which leaves the Wolverines with only one regular, will prevent the suspended players from playing for at least a week, severely crippling the team for the University of Illinois game Saturday night.

FOREIGNERS WIN

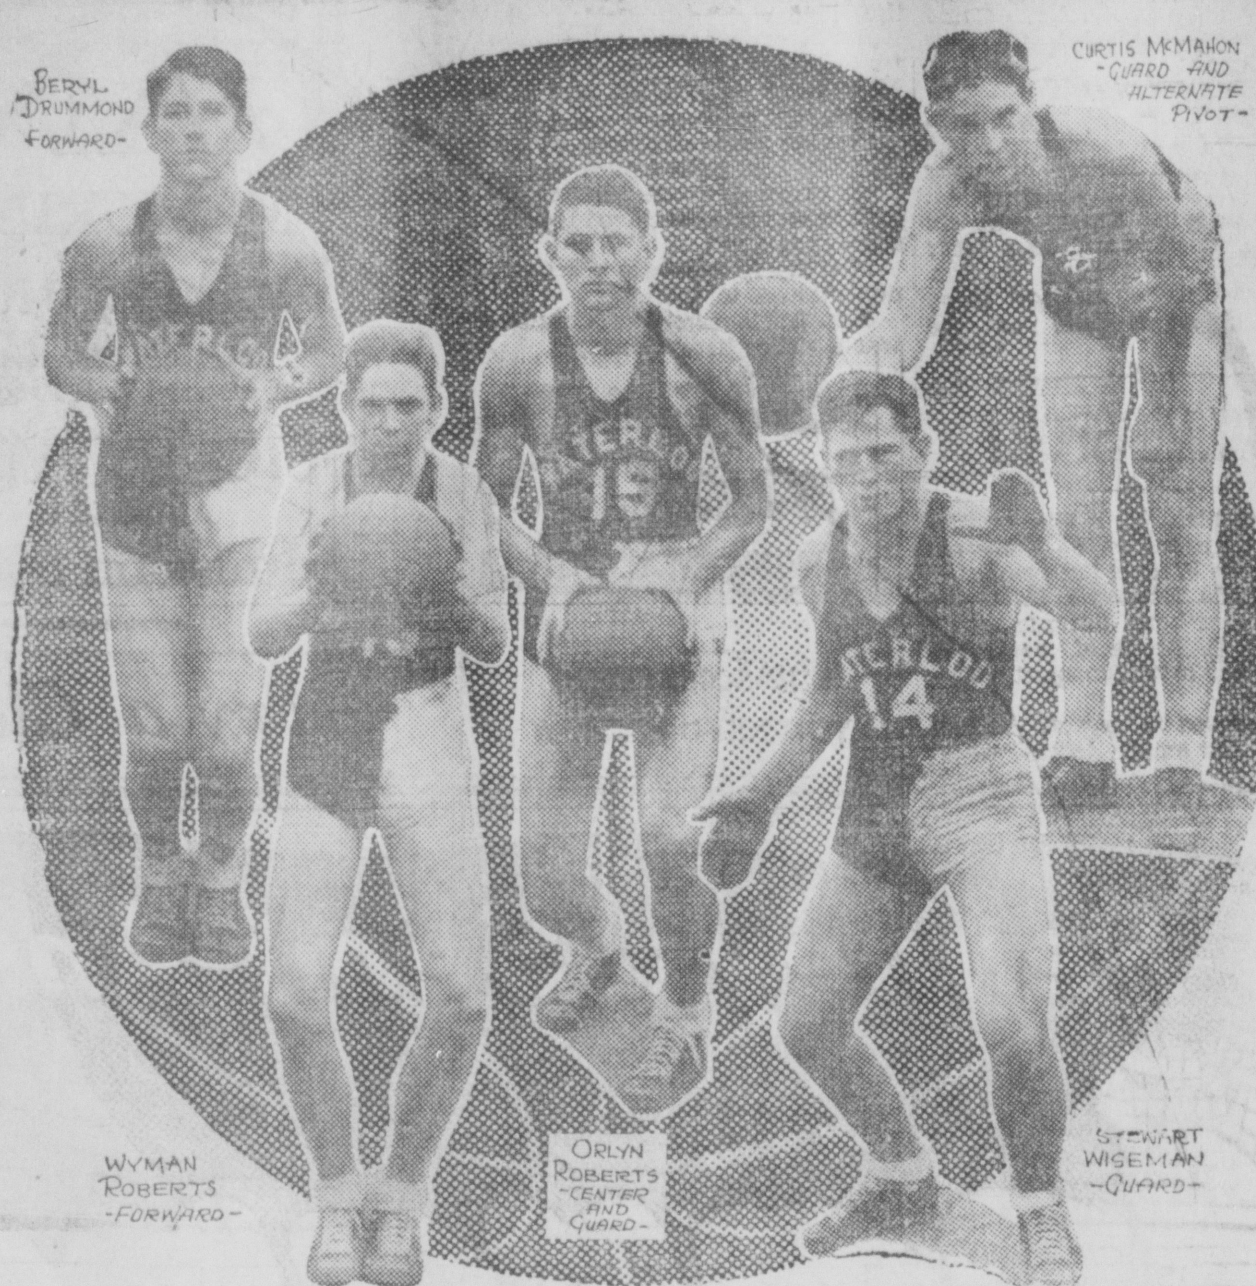

COLUMBUS, Jan. 17.—Foreign wrestling stars today had exhibited their superiority over American talent in a wrestling show here. Stanley Bureah, of Australia, used a kangaroo kick to lay Jimmy Heffer, of Texas, low in 29 minutes and seven seconds of their bout. George Dusette, of France, pinned Ray Carpenter, of Lancaster, in eight minutes and seven seconds with a full Nelson and Frankie Hart, of Holland, beat Jimmy Goodrich, of Detroit, with a reserve flying head scissors. In a preliminary on last night's card, Bulldog Jackson, of Alaska, beat Norman Reeves, of Cincinnati, in 11 minutes and 41 seconds.

BOWLING MATCHES HOLDING INTEREST

Several inter-city bowling matches held the attention of local bowlers today with the winners to be decided Friday evening by a Washington C. H. team. On Sunday Nelsonville and Portsmouth teams will both roll here. Wednesday evening the Lemons, given nearly all their power by the addition of two "outsiders," Riggins and Campbell, won from a Chillicothe team by 42 pins in a hot match. SHUTE TO MAKE CLEVELAND HOME

CLEVELAND, Jan. 17.—Densmore (Denny) Shute, born here, winner of the 1933 British open golf tournament, and at present professional at the Lancaster club of Philadelphia, is going to become a "playing professional" and make Cleveland his headquarters this summer. At least, that is the story gaining momentum in local golf circles today. According to the story, Shute will give up his position with the Philadelphia club, make his home here, and spend his time participating in exhibition matches and in all the leading tournaments. The story also asserts that the star will not join any club here except as a player.

Sportsmen to Elect

The Pickaway-co Farmer's and Sportsman's Protective association will meet in city hall Thursday at 7:30 p. m. to elect officers for 1935. The association in co-operation with Game Protector Clarence Francis distributed 100 pheasants through Pickaway-co Wednesday.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

ALL ROADS TO ASHVILLE

All roads will lead to Ashville Friday evening when the crack Waterloo team invades Pickaway-co for the first time. It is generally conceded that Ashville hasn't much of a chance to win. The Waterloo boys are all experienced, fast, sensational shots, and they know what it is all about. The fate of the village team lies on the broad shoulders of Jimmy Sciles—Should Sciles do well, but his scoring depends upon how often his teammates can get the ball to him. It is a cinch whoever plays him will have a job.

The Tigers, flushed with victory after taking Bexley, will travel to Grandview Friday evening to meet Bill Zwick's league leaders. Grandview is favored by practically every one to knock off the CBL Gonfalon.

Here are a few briefs concerning Ohio State university's athletic functions.

Bruce Laybourne, Cuyahoga Falls, tops the Ohio State university cagers with a total of 63 points in nine games played so far this season. William Henry Harrison (Tippy) Dye, Pomeroy, is second with 41 and John Wilson, Lakewood, third with 33.

Final figures on fall quarter grades have been checked and rechecked at Ohio State university and of the 205 freshmen who were out for football only five are hopelessly lost for competition.

Just because he came from Texas is no sign Coach Francis A. Schmidt doesn't know anything about ice and snow. Recently he established himself as one of the fastest ice skaters on the faculty at Ohio State University.

Larry Snyder, Ohio State university track coach, probably boasts one of the most colorful careers of anyone on the campus. Snyder attended Dartmouth and Ohio State, was an aviator in the World War, worked in California, Alaska, and in the wheat fields of Calgary, later returning to Ohio State as assistant track coach.

George Arnold, a student at Ohio State, although through with intercollegiate competition, has been invited to become a member of the Milrose Athletic Club, New York City.

BUCK CAGERS IDLE UNTIL JANUARY 21

COLUMBUS, Jan. 17.—Ohio State basketball players, victor in one and loser in two Western Conference tilts, are going at top speed this week in preparation for their next Big Ten game which will be against Chicago here Monday, Jan. 21.

Coach Harold Olsen is concentrating on the prime fundamental of the game this week—that of shooting baskets. Last Saturday night in losing a decision to Illinois the Bucks broke through time after time for shots under the basket but apparently had lost their shooting eye. A checkup on the Illinois game shows Ohio had an even dozen more shots at the basket than did the Illini.

Handicapped greatly by a lack of height the Ohio State team is compelled to rely on speed to get within shooting distance. The Bucks usually are forced on the defensive at the tip off inasmuch as there are nine centers in the Western Conference standing six feet, four inches, or better. Sam Busch, who recently has been given the center assignment, is only six feet, two inches.

After playing Chicago here next Monday night the Bucks take to the road again and meet Chicago and Northwestern, playing Notre Dame here on Jan. 31.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN (Continued From Page One) Pure Food and Drug Administration. Copeland, however, swallowed his private ire and collaborated with Vaher C. Campbell, chief of the bureau, who favors a strong regulatory measure. As a result of the activities of consumer organizations there is more sentiment in Congress this session for this kind of legislation than there was a year ago. Then the issue never reached the floor of either chamber, being deadlocked in committee. This was due to lack of attitude on the part of the President. Although he promised to sign the bill, he deftly avoided taking any stand on it. What happens on the new Copeland issue this session depends entirely on what the President does. Proponents of the bill are whispering that Roosevelt now favors action, is not unlikely to send a message to Congress on the matter.

Lenient Sec

The real work of the Securities Exchange Commission has just begun. Heretofore it has not required the registration of listed stocks. But beginning this month, every stock listed by any company on any exchange in the United States must be duly registered. This registration requires the filing of complete information regarding the assets, liabilities, etc., of the company, as set forth in Form 10. Over the drawing up of this form there was considerable secret debate within the Commission. Some favored a questionnaire requiring extremely detailed information. Some were for more leniency.

In the end, it was decided to be more lenient. However, if the SEC does not get all the information it needs, it may request anything under the sun beyond the questionnaire. The danger, of course, is that the personnel of the SEC may gradually soften up. There have been one or two indications that this was in the cards.

COUNTY WAR VETERANS TALK OF BONUS, OTHER ISSUES

HOWARD HALL POST IS HOST

Brockie, Hyer, Sharp Others
Talk During Program;
Scouts Entertain.

Members of American Legion posts throughout this section, and ex-service men in general, were guests of Howard Hall post in an open meeting held at Memorial hall Wednesday night for the purpose of discussing matters pertaining to payment of the soldiers' bonus. Representatives were present from Mt. Sterling, Hillsboro, Washington C. H. and other points. Due to inclement weather, the attendance was not as large as anticipated, but much interest was aroused in the matter under discussion.

Following the opening ceremonies, Commander Frank Littleton turned the meeting over to W. B. Hyer of Washington C. H., past commander of the Seventh Ohio district, who explained the purpose of the meeting of ex-service men, and later introduced "Bud" Sharp, also of Washington C. H., who gave an interesting summary of the bonus question and its present status. Following Mr. Sharp's talk, "Doc" Hyer conducted an open forum on the topic and many gave light on the subject that questions were answered which much interest and importance to all ex-service men.

PROGRAM OF INTEREST
At this point Ralph Ward took charge of a program of entertainment sponsored by the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. This interesting program consisted of tap dancing by Betty Clifton; two numbers on the saw by Carl Palm, with Miss Virginia Caskey at the piano; piano-accompaniment solos by Hillaire Haecker; a playlet entitled "Where There's a Will," presented by Scouts Frank Barnhill, Jr., Robert Betts, Paul Miller, Jack Russell, Charles Imier and Robert Boushner under the direction of Scoutmaster Joe Lynch.

Addresses were made by Captain J. W. Bowen, Hillsboro, commander of the Seventh Ohio district, American Legion and J. M. Brockie, editor of the Mt. Sterling Tribune.

All of the speakers stressed immediate payment of the bonus and urged all ex-service men to present their side of the argument clearly and concisely to all who are interested and who may not have a clear understanding of the provisions of the present law or pending legislation. Ex-service men were urged to get behind the officers of the Legion and other similar organizations and aid in the fight for adjusted compensation.

Morris Boggs, chairman of the committee appointed by Commander Littleton, presented a resolution endorsing a movement to contact U. S. Senators Bulkley and Donahue and Congressman Mell G. Underwood and urge support of legislation favorable to immediate payment of the bonus. The resolution was unanimously passed.

Following the session, members of the local post served coffee and doughnuts to the members and guests.

ARTIFICIAL THROAT INSERTED TO SAVE BABY'S LIFE

Dr. Insley and "Miss X"

Little "Miss X" was born "without a throat." Whereupon the baby was rushed to a Baltimore hospital. Dr. P. Insley is shown with "Miss X," following insertion by Dr. Insley and his assistant, Dr. Bay, of a rubber tube down the child's throat through which to feed her while they sought to extend the esophagus by the grafting of living tissue. X-ray pictures had disclosed that the esophagus led only to the collar bone instead of the stomach.

CONVICTS FACE

then kidnaped all three members of the California state board of prison terms and paroles, added the secretary of the board, and two guards to their cargo, and sped out of one of the prison gates to a little hamlet about 50 miles away where they were captured in a blaze of gunfire.

STEVENS BLAMED

The three living desperadoes were brought back to the prison and confessed that Clyde Stevens, elusive bank robber and San Francisco's Public Enemy No. 1, had engineered the break and furnished the guns.

To guard against the possibility of further disorder extra guards, all well-armed, were enlisted to augment the regular prison force. Stevens later was captured in Antioch, Cal., 30 miles east of San Quentin, in a gun battle. At the same time three of his companions were taken, one of them, Albert Kessel, alleged bank robbing partner of Stevens, falling seriously wounded.

Kidnaped by the convicts were: Frank C. Sykes, San Francisco, president of the state board of prison terms and paroles; board members, Joseph H. Stephens, Sacramento banker, and Warren H. Atherton, Stockton, former state commander of the American Legion; Mark Moon, secretary of the board; Harry Jones, lieutenant of the San Quentin guard, and C. L. Doose, a guard.

ROBER IS SLAIN

The slain convict was Rudolph Streight, 35, Alameda-co robber.

His confederates in the escape were Alex McKay, 28, Los Angeles robber; Joseph Kristy, 26, Los Angeles kidnaper; and Fred Landers, 27, San Francisco robber.

Streight was killed by Albert Bagshaw, a fighting young district attorney of Marin-co, in which San Quentin is located. The other three felons surrendered under the guns of Bagshaw and Under-sheriff E. T. Blum of Marin-co.

Board members Sykes and Stephens were wounded in the battle between the officers and convicts at Valley Ford, a cross-roads village in southern Sonoma-co.

The confessions, announced by Clinton Duffy, Holohan's secretary, were startling.

"The trio of desperadoes we brought back," Duffy said, "told us that Clyde Stevens went to San Rafael, 10 miles from San Quentin, several days ago and planted four automatic pistols and dozens of rounds of ammunition in the automobile of Harry Simpson, state department of works employee who frequents the prison in pursuance of his duties."

"For several days Simpson unknowingly transported the weapons and ammunition into the prison grounds and out again. Then the convict conspirators got their chance to remove the guns from the car. Two of the pistols were concealed in a keg of nails in the prison carpenter shop and two behind a hand saw."

"The convicts then settled down to await the next meeting of the board of terms and paroles, working out their plan of escape carefully. Yesterday the meeting was held."

"Convict McKay was entitled to pass through the main gate to work outside, but Streight, with two unsuccessful escape attempts against him, was not.

"McKay gave one of his suits to Streight and Streight got McKay's. The convicts being recognized only by their numbers. Then McKay came out in his other suit. Streight carried two of the pistols, Kristy the other two. They saw McKay and Landers and the plot was in execution."

Washington Expects Supreme Court to Uphold Gold Clause

WASHINGTON — Despite the Supreme Court's sharp interrogation of Government counsel, the Capital is pretty well convinced it will uphold the constitutionality of the gold clause.

Reason for this confidence is not in basic law. It is based entirely on what Attorney General Homer Cummings, in his tactfully worded but pointed hint to the court, described as "extreme national necessity."

In other words, the economic consequences of an adverse ruling would be so staggering that officialdom cannot conceive a majority of the tribunal reversing the lower court decision which upheld the law. Likewise, the history of the Court shows it is not entirely uninfluenced by the prospect of definitely unfavorable reaction against it if it upset the apple cart.

Basically there is only one issue at stake in the cases:

Whether gold clause contracts shall be paid on the basis of $1 or $1.69—the present value of the gold dollar. The complainants can only demand payment in gold as that would be manifestly impossible and the Constitution specifically gives Congress the power to "coin money and regulate the value thereof."

However, involved in this basic issue are two other factors:

Whether the law is constitutional as regards contracts between private individuals or corporations.

Whether the law should apply to foreign holders of gold clause contracts.

Regarding the latter point Chief Justice Hughes indicated much concern.

Domestically the dollar has suffered no loss in purchasing power as a result of devaluation. But in foreign exchange it has undergone drastic shrinkage.

In some quarters it is deemed possible that the Court, while upholding the validity of the law regarding domestic contract holders, may draw a distinction in the interest of foreign claimants.

Senatorial Cud

One of the pet—and frequently practiced—accomplishments of Vic Donahay, new Democratic senator from Ohio, is to break a cigar in two, stick it in his mouth and chew it complacently.

Embarrassing

Dinner table conversation in Washington requires a good memory—as a certain lady learned to her embarrassment.

She was seated next to Senator "Pudding Jim" Davis of Pennsylvania. The talk turned to the Post Office Department's efforts to stop the sale of sweepstakes and lottery tickets in the United States.

The lady was emphatic that the sale of such tickets should be stopped.

"I'm against lotteries. Aren't you, Senator?" she demanded.

An embarrassed hush descended on the table for a moment, and then someone hastily changed the subject.

Later the lady was reminded the chunky little Pennsylvania man had twice been tried for violation of the national lottery laws.

NOTE: The first trial ended in a mistrial, the second in an acquittal.

LIMIT IN AGES AGAIN BLOCKS COUNCIL MOVE

Effort to Suspend Rules, Pass Ordinance Fails; Helwagen Votes No

TO READ THIRD TIME
Members of Legion Urge 40-Year Age Limit

A second attempt to suspend the rules and pass the ordinance setting the age limit for new members of police and fire departments failed Wednesday evening this time by a vote of three to four. Two weeks ago two members, Frank Baker and Frank Marion, veteran councilmen, voted against the suspension of rules preventing the ordinance from being immediately passed and this week they found Julius Helwagen on their side.

Four councilmen, all of whom are members of the two pension boards, voted "aye" on suspension of rules. They were Ben Gordon, W. M. Reid, C. O. Leist and Dan Ryan. Since six votes are necessary to suspend rules the effort failed.

Council will meet again on Feb. 6 to read the ordinance for the third time.

INVOLVES AGE LIMIT

The disputed question involves the age limit of 24 and 35 years which war veterans claim prevent any of them from seeking a job in either department. They urge, and are supported by Mayor W. B. Cady, that the age limit be 40 years. At this time council stands four to three to pass the ordinance with the age limit 35 years. Unless one of the four members backing the ordinance as it stands changes his mind it is highly probable that council will vote the ordinance of 24 and 35 years into effect.

Then it will be possible for Mayor Cady to wield his power. He may veto the ordinance. It was said today, but interviewed he said he had not thought that far as yet. If Mayor Cady vetoes the ordinance after its expected passage council would be obliged to boost the age limit to suit him, or have the police and firemen's retirement system practically lost.

LEGIONNAIRES APPEAR

Paul Adkins and Morris Boggs, representing Howard Hall post, American Legion, appeared in council and urged that the ordinance be revised to read 24 and 40 years to permit some of the war veterans who might apply for city jobs to get in under the age limit.

'CANNIBAL' KILLER CONFESSES CRIME

Negro Breaks Down Under Grilling To Confess Killing Man, Wife.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 17.—James P. Coyner, negro "cannibal slayer" of a Cleveland, Miss., expectant mother and her husband, today made a full confession of the crime after hours of questioning by authorities.

The negro, a convicted grave robber, confessed that he entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aurelius B. Turner, slew the young husband and criminally attacked the wife.

Highly nervous after many hours of grilling, the negro admitted that he slew Mrs. Turner with a hammer and carved flesh from her body and carried it away with him. He asserted he kept and cured the flesh, which he kept as a souvenir of his atrocious crime.

Coyner also confessed that he stole the heads of four white women from their graves at Fernside, Mich., eight years ago, "to get the bones," but he denied that he had killed the women. He also admitted removing a young girl's body from an Indiana grave a number of years ago.

TWO GIRLS PERISH

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Two little girls perished in flames today when an oil heater exploded in a frame cottage at Rockaway Beach.

Mrs. Margaret Sanger, their mother, was awakened by the explosion. She fought her way through the flames to her five children and saved three of them including the two-year-old baby, Dolores, but Irene, 5, and Virginia, 9, were reached too late.

Fred Barker

One of a gang who was killed in a machine gun battle with 15 federal agents at Oklawaha, Fla., was reported identified as Fred Barker, above, hunted since Jan., 1934, as one of the kidnapers of Edward G. "BOY'S SKULL FRACTURED"

—SAYS EXAMINER

Lindbergh Child Died of Fractured Skull, Medical Man Says; Dictionary Clew.

COURTROOM, FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 17.—Medical Examiner Charles H. Mitchell testified today at the murder trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann that the Lindbergh baby was killed by a "fractured skull."

He had conducted the autopsy.

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 17.—Attorney General David L. Wilentz today revealed he is prepared to supply a final and surprising link to the literary chain with which the state of New Jersey hopes to lead Bruno Richard Hauptmann to the electric chair for the murder of Baby Lindbergh.

It is nothing more than a dictionary. But it is a German-English dictionary and it was found in Hauptmann's house in the Bronx, N. Y., and in certain highly significant words underscored with pencil marks.

"We are all prepared to show something that even the hard working handwriting experts who testified for the state did not know," Wilentz said. "That is, that Bruno Richard Hauptmann was a dictionary addict."

The evidence is highly significant in view of the testimony of the eight nationally known experts on questioned documents who have testified that Hauptmann wrote the Lindbergh ransom notes, including the one found in the baby's nursery on the night of March 1, 1932.

COURTROOM, FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 17.—William Allen, negro laborer, first witness called to the stand today at the Bruno Richard Hauptmann murder trial, told the jury how he found the body of little Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., near a lonely New Jersey roadway on May 12, 1932—seventy-two days after the infant was kidnapped from his nursery.

CONVICTS FACE DEATH TRIALS AFTER ARREST

Young Prosecutor to Invoke New Kidnap Law On Fleeing Trio

WARDEN IMPROVING
San Quentin Scene of Sensational Break

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Cal., Jan. 17.—Speedy justice—possibly the gallows under California's new kidnap law—will be demanded by District Attorney Albert Bagshaw, of Marin-co, for the remaining trio of the convict quartette who yesterday staged the sensational San Quentin prison break.

The fighting young prosecutor, who personally accounted for the fourth desperado with a load of buckshot, went into legal action as hopeful news came from the prison hospital where Warden James B. Holohan, 63, was staging a game fight for life against a fractured skull and other injuries, inflicted by the convicts in their mad dash for freedom.

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Calif., Jan. 17.—Extra guards today were rushed to San Quentin, world's most populous prison, in the fear another break may follow the sensational delivery that cost the life of one convict, lead to the serious wounding of Warden James B. Holohan and the kidnapping of six officials and the shooting of two.

Holohan, former United States marshal in San Francisco and warden here since 1927, was in the prison hospital, his skull fractured, his head cut and battered by convict guns, and his chances for recovery "very slim."

He was beaten to the floor of his home in the prison reservation by four desperate felons who (Continued On Page Eight)

Half Pint Sales Leading In Liquor Store Receipts

The hip pockets of the patrons of the Pickaway-co liquor store have carried away large quantities of the "cup that cheers" during the past four months, and the pint-size bottle seems to be the favorite for local consumption. Of the 16,555 bottles sold during a period beginning the second week in September and ending the first of January, 5,885 were pints, with a retail value of $5,689.95. The total sales during this period amounted to $17,220.45, divided as follows: Quarts, 1591, valued at $3,603.55; fifths, 4395, valued at $5,518.85; pints, 5885, valued at $5,689.95; halfpints, 4684, valued at $2,408.10. Total, 16,555 bottles valued at $17,220.45.

CITY TO NEED $85,326 SUM

Annual Appropriation Ordinance Voted at Meeting; Balance Is Expected.

The annual appropriation bill which lists estimated expenses of the city in 1935 was passed under suspension of rules Wednesday evening by council after Clerk Fred Nicholas explained the figures to the city dads.

The ordinance calls for $85,326 as compared with $79,395 included in the 1934 budget. It is estimated if sales tax receipts live up to expectations the city will finish the year with a nice balance.

The general fund appropriation calls for $63,366; auto license fund, $5,800; gasoline tax fund, $8,600; library, $5,730; fire department pensions, $615; police pensions $1,215.

Under the ordinance, the safety department asks $16,275. This includes $7,440 for police, $8,745 for firemen, $90 for mayor's incidental expense.

Total receipts in 1934 amounted to $50,077.43, Miss Lillian Young, auditor, informed council while expenditures were $50,834.76. The balance at the beginning of the year, however, was $4,757.57 so the difference in receipts and expenditures was easily handled. The balance on hand at the start of 1935 was $3,930.24.

The city's indebtedness to the utilities, water and power, total $11,283.59 to the water company and $7,932.49 to the power company.

General bonded indebtedness includes $46,435.25 in general bonds and $47,000 in hospital bonds.

The city's total cash in banks Jan. 1, 1935, was $10,785.42 in all funds.

SECURITY PLAN IS TOLD TODAY

Four-Point Program Urged By President In Message To Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Asserting that the country cannot be guaranteed against future depressions, but that their effects can be mitigated, President Roosevelt today asked congress to enact a broad-gauged program of social security legislation designed to help what he has described as the "under-privileged" in the American economic system.

His program embraces:

1. Unemployment compensation, with the federal government holding the purse strings and the individual states administering the plan, to be financed by a payroll tax of 3 per cent, jointly contributed by the employer and employee, or by the employee alone, as the states decide.

2. Old age pensions, with the federal government matching the states dollar-for-dollar, the age minimum being 65.

3. Federal aid to the states in caring for dependent and crippled children.

4. Federal aid to state and local public health agencies, with a strengthening of the U. S. public health service.

John D. Newton, retired farmer, is in critical condition at his home on N. Court-st. His daughter, Miss J. C. Cheek, was to arrive today from Oklahoma City to be with her father.

Leads Fight on Huey's Scalp

Ernest J. Bourgeois

President of the Square Deal association of Louisiana, Ernest J. Bourgeois heads a non-political organization fighting the dictatorship of Senator Huey Long, by holding protest meetings in various cities. The organization was formed when jobs of thousands of employees of Standard Oil were threatened by the five-cent tax on each barrel of oil refined in the state. The company announced it might have to withdraw from Louisiana.

BUSINESS AT BERGER SEEN

Hospital Comes Within $4,362.24 of Making Way; Outstanding Bills High.

Berger hospital came within $4,362.24 of making its own way in 1934, according to comparative figures submitted to council Wednesday evening by Miss Ethel Kirchofer, superintendent.

Expenses for the year amounted to $15,805.35 while receipts totalled $11,433.25.

If outstanding accounts of $2,654.10 accumulated since last January 1 could be collected the deficit for the year would be much less. Of this delinquent amount $1,611.50 is set off from $1,042.60, the latter being charged to charity cases.

The total amount of money on the accounts receivable ledger of the institution is $5,645.60.

Miss Kirchofer's report discloses the following items:

Number of persons in hospital Jan. 1, 1934, 5; admitted during the year, 459; treated, 558; discharged, 457; deaths, 19; births, 51; operations, 176 days care, 3,148.

Expenditures: provisions, $2,587.79; laundry, $354.22; fuel and light, $853.15; medical and surgical supplies, $1,684.27; salaries, $8,923.43; other supplies, $682.49.

Collections at the hospital during December totalled $808.68.

REMOVE OBSTACLE FROM SMITH DITCH

Only one obstacle remained in the path of council today on its path toward proper reconstruction of the Smith ditch in the south end of the city. Charles "Hack" Stevenson has signed an easement permitting council to go through his land, but the Marfield property is the only one through which a right-of-way has not yet been gained.

Another meeting with the Misses Marfield and their attorney is sought by council.

It is feared if the project cannot be started soon the city will not receive money pledged by the county.

ALL RETAILERS GIVEN WARNING BY OHIO CHIEF

Actual Collection to Start On Sunday, Quincy Davis Announces

INSPECTORS READY
Most of Stores Ready for Start, He Says

COLUMBUS, Jan. 17.—Quincy Davis, chairman of the state tax commission, today announced that Ohio's three-cent sales tax, designed to give the state $69,000,000 in revenue, would become operative Sunday, January 27 at 12:01 a. m.

Actual collections will start at that time, he said.

Quincy warned retail stores and merchants that inspectors of the sales tax division of the commission would launch an "intensive campaign" to see that they comply with the sales tax law. His full statement follows:

"Our inspectors, covering every district in the state, will start an intensive campaign the moment the act becomes effective to detect and prosecute retail vendors who do not collect the new sales tax. We have no alternative."

"Vendors should realize that before January 27, they must purchase a supply of these state-issued, prepaid tax receipts. They cannot purchase them until they take out a vendor's license secured from their county auditors. They cannot collect the tax from their customers until they have done so."

"The great majority of the substantial stores of the state have complied. I am afraid that, through ignorance or neglect, many retailers will suffer. The tax commission will be forced not only to prosecute but to impose heavy tax penalties for failure to cooperate in the enforcement of the act."

READY BY JAN. 19
Davis said he had been informed by the state treasurer's office that the sales tax stamps would be ready for sale at all districts of the state by January 19.

SHANER REQUESTS TWO CITY ACTIONS

Safety Director L. T. Shaner asked council Wednesday evening to draw up an ordinance wanted to prevent automobiles standing on the streets for an unreasonably long period of time.

He expressed disgust at current use of cars who leave them on the public thoroughfares with 1931 license plates on them.

He also asked council for a resolution sanctioning his action in turning over outstanding bills of Berger hospital to a collection agency.

No action was taken on either request.

PATTERN 9272

Larger women who know "what's what" in the figure flattery will like the long slimming lines of this tailored afternoon frock. For it's a woman's frock that's young, becoming and not a bit fussy withal. The slenderizing effect of that front skirt panel which seems to detract inches from the hip measurements is carried out above the waistline by the long slim revers that form a nice V. Darts at the shoulders give the bodice comfortable roominess, and vertical tucks at the back of the waistline mold it trimly. The sleeves may be made long or short.

Pattern 9272 may be ordered only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 4 yards 39 inch fabric and 2 yard contrasting.

NEIGHBORLY SETTLEMENT

It will be easier for the United States to make the apology recommended by the arbiters in the I'm Alone case to Canada than it would have been if some other country had been the offended party. It is partly because the dispute was with Canada that the case had faded from memory until revived by the report of the commissioners. No fears were entertained of a serious situation between us and a people with whom we had lived in amity for more than a century. There were, of course, some sharp words uttered when the solitary schooner was sunk by a coast guard cutter in the strenuous days of prohibition and there was a lot of argument about "hot pursuit," the 12-mile treaty and other things that seemed highly important at that time. But there was no doubt that the case would take an orderly course toward a just settlement.

Chief Justice Duff for Canada and Associate Justice Van Deranter for the United States have examined the evidence and found the United States was overzealous. A reasonable amount is assessed against us for damages to the crew, their dependents and the Canadian government. Paying the bill and saying "Beg Pardon" to Canada is a happy way out of what, under other circumstances, might have been a more disagreeable incident. It pays to have neighbors with whom we can settle disputes like gentlemen.

SENATOR GLASS AT 77

PRESIDENT Roosevelt frequently refers to United States Senator Carter Glass of Virginia as "an unreconstructed rebel." The characterization is a tribute and the president, who has sincere admiration for this severe critic of some of his policies, intends it as such.

The nation, too, shares the president's respect for this genuine patriot and statesman, who has just observed his seventy-seventh birthday by putting in a day of heavy labor in behalf of his constituency and the nation.

During his long public career, Carter Glass has served nine terms in the house, resigning to become secretary of the treasury under Woodrow Wilson. He could have had the same post in the cabinet of President Roosevelt if he had so desired but preferred to continue in the senate, where he is serving his third term.

Senator Glass has never been content to drift along with the stream. He has not hesitated to take issue with the policies of the administration, notwithstanding his friendship for the president. Probably the leading authority in congress on government finance, he opposes present fiscal tendencies and does not hesitate to express his opposition when occasion requires.

He does not campaign for reelection nor does he seek to cultivate the favor of the electorate. Yet, Virginia sends him to Washington with an unflinching consistency. In doing so, the state displays sound judgment and an appropriate recognition of statesmanship.

BARNACLES

THERT are a number of large, influential and respected organizations whose members, not content with taking part in choosing senators and representatives in their own districts, think it consistent with our scheme of government to establish lobbies in Washington to work directly on the legislative and executive branches of the national government.

They build, under the shadow of the capitol or the white house, marble palaces, impressive edifices reflecting wealth and power, or maintain sumptuous offices where they can feel the official pulse. From them emanate paid lobbyists who invade every department, crying their demands into the ears of officials and congressmen, and seeking to dominate legislation and to obtain special privileges.

The lobbies of these organizations are extra-constitutional and should be not only extra-legal, but illegal. They are a contradiction of democracy, an affront to the American form of government.

Half of our lives are spent talking to people about other people.

A husband is a person who always brings home the bacon—when you send him after ham.

The simple life of 1890 had its advantages. The family didn't quarrel over the bath room.

Man alone can talk, which means that no other animal lies awake thinking what a fool it was.

It is easy to run business in violation of economic laws. All you need is a government to make up the losses.

Looking Back In
Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

The tenth anniversary of prohibition was observed by the Circleville W. C. T. U. with an appropriate program at the Presbyterian church.

A. W. (Chip) Phillips, who had been associated with the Pike Motor Sales for several years, was appointed manager of the new Direct Dunlop tire store at 168 W. Main-st.

City council made an appropriation for the purchase of a new Ford car to be used by the police department.

15 YEARS AGO

Dr. H. D. Jackson was elected commander of the American Legion post to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Lieutenant John Hedges. The post had 50 members.

Congo tribe, I. O. R. M., had a pow-wow and war dance, members of neighboring tribes being in attendance.

Jackson-twp Grange installed officers as follows: Frank Anderson, master; N. F. Reid, overseer; Mrs. Joseph Shortridge, lecturer; Reid Hill, chaplain; Irwin S. Heid, steward; Will Hulse, assistant steward; J. H. List, treasurer; J. J. Renick, gate keeper; Martha Krimmel, lady assistant steward; Lucile Renick, Ceres; Bertha Hulse, Pomona; Lillian Shortridge, Flora; George C. Gerhardt, legislative agent; Albert Krimmel, business agent.

25 YEARS AGO

William Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wilson, Circleville, was the victim of a daring hold-up in Columbus. He was assaulted and robbed of $50 and a watch.

C. F. Lehman, registrar of vital statistics for the city of Circleville and Washington, Jackson and Wayne-twps, reported 258 births and 160 deaths in the district for the year 1909. The same district reported 24 births and 16 deaths during the month of December, 1909.

The Scioto river was out of its banks. An ice gorge a mile long had formed north of the red bridge, and the stream was full of floating ice.

Little Sister

by MARGARET WIDDEMER

READ THIS FIRST:

Leila Madison, an orphan, has been trying to halt the elopement of her reckless young sister, Bet, with Addison Huntington, a romantic radical. Jerry Redmond, a newspaper reporter, has been helping her because of his friendship for Addison's brother who was Jerry's roommate at Yale. They are all at Leila's home in Westchester where Addison and Jerry meet Aunt Minnie and Mrs. Johnston-Hedges, mother of Leila's sweetheart and aristocratic neighbor, Orton Johnston-Hedges. They have just come from Bet's New York apartment where Addison narrowly escaped the police who sought him for questioning in connection with the whereabouts of an acquaintance and alleged former named Jarocki. Addison makes an excellent impression upon Aunt Minnie and Mrs. Johnston-Hedges. Addison makes it clear he and his wealthy father do not get along, but Aunt Minnie doesn't know this. Bet borrows $5 from Leila to buy Addison a collar to replace the one he left in New York when he disguised himself as a girl to fool the police. To Leila's surprise the dinner goes off very pleasantly. Aunt Minnie tells Addison about the improvements and how the old residents of Fernwood Manor are trying to keep their bathing beach exclusive property.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 18

WHILE AUNT MINNIE had been chattering on, really more because early training had made her incapable of keeping anything to herself than for any other reason, Addison had been stiffening more and more, and growing pinker and pinker.

"You mean," he finally demanded in a voice incredibly like his discarded father's at its sternest on the radio, "that you and Mrs. Johnston-Hedges have been led to believe that the innocent inhabitants of the other parts of Fernwood should be denied their inalienable rights of air, water, recreation, while those of you who live here in Fernwood Manor disport on a privileged stretch of sunny sand?"

"Oh, no, we don't disport, either of us. Florida has a lovely private beach on her own estate, and I haven't gone swimming for 20 years. I don't really consider it dignified for middle-aged ladies," said Aunt Minnie innocently.

"That isn't the point," said Bet impatiently. "He means that people who gobble up bathing beaches for themselves are a lot of pigs. He means—"

Leila interposed before Bet should make the inevitable point.

"What he means couldn't possibly be as rude as what you're going to say," she interposed.

Addison fixed eyes which already held devotion on Aunt Minnie.

"I was only going to point out that she had been deceived," he said with dignity, "and that I feel it will be only right for me to throw all my weight against such a performance."

"You haven't any weight," Leila told him ruthlessly. "Only property owners can vote on this, to begin with, and you're going away tomorrow anyhow. And the vote isn't till October 10."

Bet looked anguished at this reminder. So did Aunt Minnie.

"Perhaps we can persuade him to stay," she said with obvious sincerity. "And perhaps you could take him down to see the beach, dear Beattie, while Leila and I clear away. When he sees it I am sure he will realize that there is only room for the Manor people."

"I shall be glad to see the beach."

Leila relaxed and was appeased.

said Addison. "And—" he really seemed to mean it—"I have not meant to show anything but gratitude for your sweetness and kindness, dear Aunt Minnie, if I may so call you. You seem to me, personally, very close to what I have always felt woman should be. I—I lost my mother in my infancy, and my father—" he pulled himself up—"always preferred the less intellectual type of child."

"How perfectly dreadful of him!" said Aunt Minnie warmly. "Parents never should show preferences. Anyway, I'm sure you were mistaken about him."

Addison finished the last particle of his dessert—the largest portion—and came around and took Aunt Minnie's wrinkled ringed hands. They gazed adoringly at each other; they were both nearly on the edge of weeping.

"I thought you wanted to see the beach," said Bet, but meekly.

"After I have helped Aunt Minnie clear away," Addison said, and suited the action to the word. Not until the table was excellently and neatly cleared, and the dishes piled and scraped by Addison and Bet functioning under his orders, did the lovers leave Aunt Minnie and Leila alone in the kitchen.

"Wasn't that sweet of them?" Aunt Minnie beamed, more touched by Bet's solution dish-piling, Leila thought wistfully, than by the thousands of dishes Leila had done at her side for years. Well, that was the way things were.

Leila tied her green rubber apron over her dress and began putting things away in the ice box. If Aunt Minnie did that, somehow they never fitted, and the butter and cream were apt to spill when you opened the door they leaned against. Aunt Minnie turned up her sleeves and filled the dishpan. The routine went on till they were done. Aunt Minnie then planned a breakfast she hoped Addison would like, and trotted out after Leila, tidied and aproned, to the big old-fashioned veranda. They dropped into a chair apiece, and for a moment nobody spoke. Then Aunt Minnie sat up and became her most pleased and alert self.

"I'm so glad you bought these," she said, holding up a small box.

Leila, like all appreciated females, relaxed and was appeased. She leaned more comfortably against the corner of the stairs where the telephone dwelt, and smiled at it.

"Thanks," she said in a soothing voice.

A PRETTY PLAY

THESE ARE many pretty plays which the novice regards as wonderful, which the expert makes as a mere matter of routine. A brilliant solo I saw one able player hold the rank of a solo. A considerable group of moves were watching at a took place. To the gallery eyes play seemed the apex of skill. The time after players at the table would have laughed at East had he played otherwise.

East followed. East ruffed with his 7, taking care to preserve his 2 as the only possible means of entering dummy.

Two rounds of high hearts pulled all opposing trumps. The 2 of hearts was overtaken by dummy's 5. The J of spades was led through North, who passed the first trick. If it pays to hold up once it usually pays to hold up again. East took his 3 spade tricks, leaving North holding the bare K. Finally the dealer had to give opponents a club trick, just fulfilling his 5-odd contract.

Had East only known that his partner held 4 small diamonds he might have doubled, for a probable penalty of 700 points, for 4 down but vulnerable.

If South ruffs the second lead of hearts, discarding one of his losing spades on the second round of hearts, he will be in far better shape to combat East. The latter will be in the lead and he must not be caught unawares. Suppose East exits by leading off his Ace and 3 of clubs, then putting South in the lead. The declarer can then afford to pull trumps, leaving himself a single lone diamond.

South will run off 3 good clubs, but he will wind up by having to give East 2 spade tricks. Probably South will win 2-odd, going down only 3 tricks, and costing him only 150 points.

HALLAM'S JOB GAINING FAVOR WITH DEALERS

Inspection of Grain Interesting Work; Sponsored By Chamber of Commerce.

The grain inspection department of the Circleville Chamber of Commerce is meeting with popular favor with grain dealers through this section. The department was organized last July and a licensed federal grain inspector, J. A. Hallam, placed in charge. A visit to the inspector's offices at the Norfolk & Western freight station proved to be an interesting and enlightening to a local representative. Mr. Hallam carefully explaining in detail all the requirements and the work involved in a actual test of grain to determine the weight per bushel, moisture content, foreign material, etc.

ALL IS GRADED

Practically all grain received at terminal grain markets is graded and warehoused according to well defined quality standards. The federal grain grades. The advantages of definite grades to facilitate transactions in grain, especially when the buyer cannot actually examine the grain, are recognized. The federal grain standards enable those who sell grain to know definitely what they must deliver to meet a specified contract by grade, and the grain standards likewise furnish to the buyer definite information as to what he may expect when he contracts to buy a certain specified grade.

Believing that there was sufficient local interest in the marketing of grain according to federal standards, the Chamber of Commerce sponsored the establishment of an inspection department here, and it is growing in favor. The department is self-supporting, the grain inspection being made on a fee basis, and the service is available to all buyers and sellers of grain, either incoming, outgoing or enroute.

LICENSED BY U. S.

Mr. Hallam is licensed by the federal government, and is subject to all its tests according to government standards. He was chief grain inspector for the Cincinnati Board of Trade for 16 years.

TOP TEAM DEFEATS OHIO, LEADS LEAGUE

Wesleyan Get Hot As Wesleyan Ramps Over Ohio
U. on Athens Court.

By International News Service
Ohio Wesleyan, defending champions in the Buckeye conference basketball race, today became the foremost contenders for the crown again this year after defeating Ohio University at Athens, last night by a 49 to 32 score.

Wesleyan now will point for the undefeated Cincinnati team which it will meet next Tuesday night in a game that will virtually decide the league race. Cincinnati boasts of a string of 10 wins this season. The Battling Bishops have won three conference games and if they can beat Cincinnati's Beavers Tuesday, there probably will be no stopping them.

LEAD AT HALF

Ohio Wesleyan got away to a slow start in the game at Athens last night. Twice the Bobcats held a one-point advantage in the first half but the Battling Bishops turned on the power toward the close of that period and never again were bested. The half-time score was Wesleyan 22, Ohio 15.

Wesleyan did its greatest work in stopping Beavers, who is a high scorer in the state. The center was too well guarded by the Bishops and he was able to get only one field goal. However, he dropped seven free throws into the bucket.

French, forward, and Stammler, a guard, led the attack for Wesleyan. A feature of the Bishops' offensive was the fact that they worked the ball up under the basket before trying most of their shots.

MT. UNION LEADS

Meantime, a survey of the Ohio Conference standings showed that Mt. Union was setting the pace there with four straight conference victories. Oberlin is second with two and Xavier and Baldwin Wallace each have one victory against no defeats. Akron, the champion last year, was toppled from its perch in a game with the Baldwin Wallace squad.

FIVE MICHIGAN CAGERS OUSTED

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Jan. 17.—Five University of Michigan basketball players, four of them on the varsity, today had been temporarily suspended for breaking training rules by Coach Franklin Cappon.

The suspended players are: Captain A. Plummer, Chelso Tamagno, John Jolonski, George Rudness and Jack Teitelbaum.

The disciplinary move, which leaves the Wolverines with only one regular, will prevent the suspended players from playing for at least a week, seriously crippling the team for the University of Illinois game Saturday night.

FOREIGNERS WIN

COLUMBUS, Jan. 17.—Foreign wrestling stars today had exhibited their superiority over American talent in a wrestling show here.

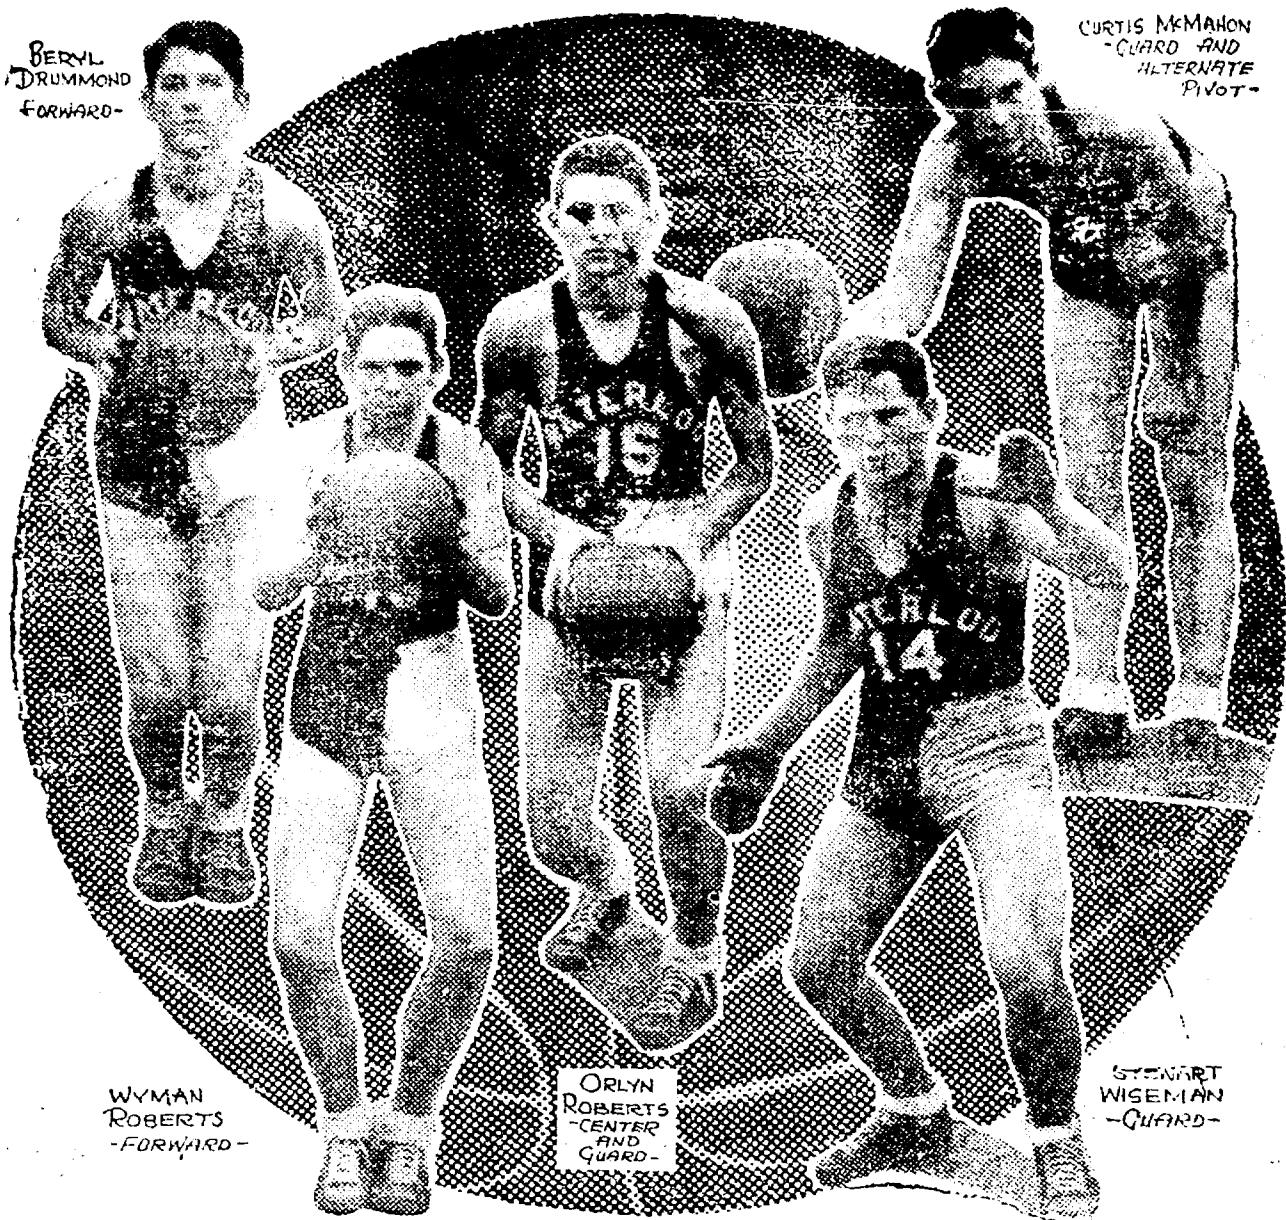

Stanley Buresh, of Australia, used a kangaroo kick to lay Jimmy Heffernan of Texas, low in 20 minutes and seven seconds of their bout. George Dusette, of France, pinned Ray Carpenter, of Lancaster, in eight minutes and seven seconds with a full Nelson and Frankie Hart, of Holland, beat Jimmy Goodrich, of Detroit, with a reserve flying head scissors.

In a preliminary on last night's card, Bulldog Jackson, of Alaska, beat Norman Reeves, of Cincinnati, in 11 minutes and 41 seconds.

GIRLS 5 TO PLAY

The Merrie Makers basketball club will play the colored girls athletic club of Chillicothe Thursday evening at the Armory.

PLAY AT ASHVILLE FRIDAY

The famous Waterloo high school team, one of the sensations of the state, plays at Ashville Friday at 9 o'clock in the feature contest of the year in Pickaway-co. There are no reserved seats.

BOWLING MATCHES HOLDING INTEREST

Several inter-city bowling matches held the attention of local kegglers today with the runways to be completed Friday evening by a Washington C. H. team. On Sunday Nelsonville and Portsmouth teams will both roll here.

Wednesday evening the Lemons, given nearly all their power by the addition of two "outsiders," Riffin and Campbell, won from a Chillicothe team by 42 pins in a hot match.

The lineups:

SHUTE TO MAKE CLEVELAND HOME

CLEVELAND, Jan. 17.—Densmore (Denny) Shute, born here, winner of the 1933 British open golf tournament, and at present professional at the Larch club of Philadelphia, is going to become a "playing professional" and make Cleveland his headquarters this summer.

At least, that is the story gaining momentum in local golf circles today. According to the story, Shute will give up his position with the Philadelphia club, make his home here, and spend his time participating in exhibition matches and in all the leading tournaments.

The story also asserts that the star will not join any club here except as a player.

Sportsmen to Elect

The Pickaway-co Farmer's and Sportsman's Protective association will meet in city hall Thursday at 7:30 p. m. to elect officers for 1935.

The association in co-operation with Game Protector Clarence Francis distributed 100 pheasants through Pickaway-co Wednesday.

About This And That

BY THE
SECOND GUESSER

ALL ROADS TO ASHVILLE

All roads will lead to Ashville Friday evening when the crack Waterloo team invades Pickaway-co for the first time. It is generally conceded that Ashville hasn't much of a chance to win. The Waterloo boys are all experienced, fast, sensational shots, and they know what it is all about. The fate of the village team lies on the broad shoulders of Jimmy Scoles—Should Scoles do well, but his scoring depends upon how often his teammates can get the ball to him. It is a cinch whoever plays him will have a job.

The Tigers, flushed with victory after taking Bexley, will travel to Grandview Friday evening to meet Bill Zwick's league leaders. Grandview is favored by practically every one to knock off the CEL Gonfalon.

Here are a few briefs concerning Ohio State university's athletic functions.

Bruce Laybourne, Cuyahoga Falls, tops the Ohio State university cagers with a total of 62 points in nine games played so far this season. Wayne Henry Harrison (Tippy) Dye, Pomeroey, is second with 41 and John Wilson, Lakewood, third with 33.

Final figures on fall quarter grades have been checked and rechecked at Ohio State university and of the 205 freshmen who were out for football only five are hopelessly lost for competition.

Just because he came from Texas is no sign Coach Francis A. Schmidt doesn't know anything about ice and snow. Recently he established himself as one of the fastest ice skaters on the faculty at Ohio State University.

Larry Snyder, Ohio State university track coach, probably boasts one of the most colorful careers of anyone on the campus. Snyder attended Dartmouth and Ohio State, was an aviator in the World War, worked in California, Alaska, and in the wheat fields of Calgary, later returning to Ohio State as assistant track coach.

George Arnold, a student at Ohio State, although through with intercollegiate competition, has been invited to become a member of the Midwestern Athletic Club, New York City.

BUCK CAGERS IDLE UNTIL JANUARY 21

COLUMBUS, Jan. 17.—Ohio State basketball players, victor in one and loser in two Western Conference tilts, are going at top speed this week in preparation for their next Big Ten game which will be against Chicago here Monday, Jan. 21.

Coach Harold Olsen is concentrating on the prime fundamental of the game this week—that of shooting baskets. Last Saturday night in losing a decision to Illinois the Bucks broke through time after time for shots under the basket but apparently had lost their shooting eye. A checkup on the Illinois game shows Ohio had an even dozen more shots at the basket than did the Illini.

Handicapped greatly by a lack of height the Ohio State team is compelled to rely on speed to get within shooting distance. The Bucks usually are forced on the defensive at the tip off inasmuch as there are nine centers in the Western Conference standing six feet, four inches, or better. Sam Busich, who recently has been on the center assignment, is only six feet, two inches.

After playing Chicago here next Monday night, the Bucks take to the road again and meet Chicago and Northwestern, playing Notre Dame here on Jan. 31.

COUNTY WAR VETERANS TALK OF BONUS, OTHER ISSUES

HOWARD HALL POST IS HOST

Brookie, Hyer, Sharp Others
Talk During Program;
Scout's Entertain.

Members of American Legion posts throughout this section, and ex-service men in general, were guests of Howard Hall post in an open meeting held at Memorial hall Wednesday night for the purpose of discussing matters pertaining to payment of the soldiers' bonus. Representatives were present from Mt. Sterling, Hillsboro, Washington C. H. and other points. Due to inclement weather, the attendance was not as large as anticipated, but much interest was aroused in the matter under discussion.

Following the opening ceremonies, Commander Frank Littleton turned the meeting over to W. B. Hyer of Washington C. H., past commander of the Seventh Ohio district, who explained the purpose of the meeting of ex-service men, and later introduced "Bud" Sharp, also of Washington C. H., who gave an interesting summary of the bonus question and its present status. Following Mr. Sharp's talk, "Doc" Hyer conducted an open forum on the topic and many gave light on the subject that is questions were answered which much interest and importance to all ex-service men.

PROGRAM OF INTEREST

At this point Ralph Ward took charge of a program of entertainment sponsored by the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. This interesting program consisted of tap dancing by Betty Clifton; two numbers on the song by Carl Palm, with Miss Virginia Cuskey at the piano; piano-accompanied solos by Hilarie Hae, a vocal solo entitled "Where There's a Will," presented by Scouts Frank Burnell, Jr., Robert Betts, Paul Miller, Jack Russell, Charles Under and Robert Bowsher under the direction of Scoutmaster Joe Lynch.

Addresses were made by Captain J. W. Bowen, 19th district commander of the Seventh Ohio district, American Legion and J. M. Brookie, editor of the Mt. Sterling Tribune.

All of the speakers stressed the importance of the bonus and urged all ex-service men to join their side of the argument clearly and conscientiously. All who are interested and who may not have a clear understanding of the provisions of the present law or pending legislation, the speakers were urged to get behind the officers of the Legion and other similar organization and aid in the fight for adjusted compensation.

Morris Boggs, chairman of the committee appointed by Commander Littleton, presented a resolution endorsing a movement to contact U. S. Senators Bulkley and Donahue and Congressman Mell G. Underwood and urge support of legislation favorable to immediate payment of the bonus. The resolution was unanimously passed.

Following the session, members of the local post served coffee and doughnuts to the members and guests.

ARTIFICIAL THROAT INSERTED TO SAVE BABY'S LIFE

Dr. Insley and "Miss X"

Little "Miss X" was born "without a throat." Whereupon the baby was rushed to a Baltimore hospital. Dr. F. Insley is shown with "Miss X," following insertion by Dr. Insley and his assistant, Dr. Bay, of a rubber tube down the child's throat through which to feed her while they sought to extend the esophagus by the grafting of living tissue. X-ray pictures had disclosed that the esophagus led only to the collar bone instead of the stomach.

then kidnaped all three members of the California state board of prison terms and paroles, added the secretary of the board and two guards to their cargo, and sped out of one of the prison gates to a little hamlet about 50 miles away where they were captured in a blaze of gunfire.

STEVENS BLAMED

Three "three living" desperadoes were brought back to the prison and confessed that Clyde Stevens, elusive bank robber and San Francisco's Public Enemy No. 1, had engineered the break and furnished the guns.

To guard against the possibility of further disorder extra guards, all well armed, were enlisted to augment the regular prison force. Stevens later was captured in Antioch, Cal., 30 miles east of San Quentin, in a gun battle. At the same time three of his companions were taken, one of them, Albert Kessel, alleged bank robbing partner of Stevens, falling seriously wounded.

Kidnaped by the convicts were: Frank C. Sykes, San Francisco, president of the state board of prison terms and paroles; board members, Joseph H. Stephens, Sacramento banker, and Warren H. Atherton, Stockton, former state commander of the American Legion; Mark Moon, secretary of the board; Harry Jones, lieutenant of the San Quentin guard, and C. L. Doose, a guard.

ROBBERS IS SLAIN

The slain convict was Rudolph Streight, 35, Alameda-co. robber.

His confederates in the escape were Alex McKay, 28, Los Angeles robber; Joseph Kristy, 26, Los Angeles kidnaper; and Fred Landers, 27, San Francisco robber.

Streight was killed by Albert Baughman, a fighting young district attorney of Marin-co, in which San Quentin is located. The other three felons surrendered under the guns of Bagshaw and Under-sheriff E. T. Blum of Marin-co.

Board members Sykes and Stephens were wounded in the battle between the officers and convicts at Valley Ford, a crossroads village in southern Sonoma-co.

The confessions, announced by Clinton Duffy, Holohan's secretary, were startling.

"The trio of desperadoes we brought back," Duffy said, "told us that Clyde Stevens went to San Rafael, 10 miles from San Quentin, several days ago and placed four automatic pistols and dozens of rounds of ammunition in the automobile of Harry Simpson, state department of works employee who frequents the prison in pursuance of his duties.

"For several days Simpson unknowingly transported the weapons and ammunition into the prison grounds and out again. Then the convict conspirators got their chance to remove the guns from the car. Two of the pistols were concealed in a keg of nails in the prison carpenter shop and two behind a band saw.

"The convicts then settled down to await the next meeting of the board of terms and paroles, working out their plan of escape carefully. Yesterday the meeting was held.

"Convict McKay was entitled to pass through the main gate to work outside, but Streight, with two unsuccessful escape attempts against him, was not.

McKay gave one of his pistols to Streight and Streight got away. The convicts being recognized only by their numbers. Then McKay came out in his other suit. "Streight carried two of the pistols, Kristy the other two. They arney McKay and Landers, and the plot was in execution."
